INTERNATIONAL NURSES DAY 12 MAY 2012

International nurses day celebrates nurses, nursing service and nursing accomplishments around the world while commemorating the anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth.

In South Africa Cecilia Makiwane, the first black nurse is also remembered. On this special day all the nurses in the DOD are remembered for their dedication and commitment to their profession. A special thank you for the many ways you make people's lives better.

When you are a nurse know that every day you will touch a life or a life will touch yours.

Thank you for all the contributions and commitments you make as you care for others. The theme for 2012, "closing the gap: from evidence to action"

"Wishing you a happy nurse's day"
